Dermatology, Endocrinology, and Infectious Disease departments. After an evaluation is made the necessary treatment is offered. During this treatment process the most important thing for us is to keep hygiene at the highest level.

EPILATION

This is the fastest and most reliable method of getting rid of unwanted hair. Thanks to cooling-aided laser methods, the laser heat is transformed into an energy that destroys hair follicle without damaging the skin. In our center, Alexandrite Laser and Diode Laser applications are performed for epilation.

Alexandrite Laser

The long-pulse alexandrite laser has the ability of deep penetration into the dermis. The resultant heat build-up in the hair shafts disables the hair follicles in the active growth phase which enables it to achieve effective laser hair removal.

Diode Laser

The diode laser has a longer wavelength than the other lasers and thus is able to penetrate deeper into the skin, allowing treatment on dark-skinned people, unlike the other lasers. The laser is also effective on white-skinned patients.

FRACTIONAL LASER TREATMENT

Fractional laser is for people who want to look good – and want real results – but don't want the overly change or extended downtimes that comes with surgery.

- Non-invasive, clinically proven to be safe, easily managed into your routine.

- Real change you just can't get from lotions and creams.

- Simple, effective treatment that really reverses signs of aging.
